

Poštovani kupci

novi cjenik je u izradi.

Nažalost, došlo je do povećanja cijena zbog narušenog odnosa između američkog dolara i eura.

Please find a new price list enclosed. I am sure that everyone is aware of all the economic issues that Europe is facing and that this has created very strong exchange rate changes. The Euro has weakened very much against the US Dollar and many other currencies. This has resulted in many price changes as you will see in the enclosed price list. You are advised very strongly to look into your retail prices as well and make adjustments where necessary. With a Euro/Dollar exchange rate going from a maximum of about 1,45 in the beginning of this year to as low as 1,22 this week it is clear that this decrease of the Euro by almost 20% heavily affects retail pricing as well.

We will adjust pricing again when we will see further changes in the exchange rate and it would be to our surprise when this would not happen again shortly. Basically we will try to send you an updated price list every two weeks from now on.
